Canton, Ohio.

DAILY MORNING NEWS.

Daily delivered by carrier, 6c per week

A subscriber wants to know if there ought not be an addenda to the Ohio statutes embracing the ultimatum of the liquor league as to what constitutes an observance of the Sunday closing law.

The Baltimore & Ohio has announced a policy of practical prohibition by requiring all employees connected with the direction of running trains to abstain from the use of intoxicants under penalty of discharge.

Since the public utilities bill to put corporate interests in the hands of a commission is up and the corporations are donning their armor to fight certain reform bills before the legislature Governor Harris concludes he will run again for governor. The ruling spirit of old time Republicanism to serve selfish interests is still strong.

A CANDIDATE AGAIN.

With another shift of the political breeze, being somewhat in the nature of a lull in the tempest, we are again given to understand that Governor Harris will accept nomination for governor at the hands of the Reconstituted convention to be held in Columbus March 3-4.

We know of no reason why Governor Harris should not accept such a nomination, if he desires it, unless the convention should forget, neglect or decline to give it to him.

Governor Harris took a seat in the Taft juggernaut before it started out to crush the friends and followers of the two Ohio senators. He put himself in a position where he could ride it out to victory, or hop off if there developed any danger of the elimination car going into the ditch. The governor, no doubt, is satisfied with the present prospect, regardless of the fact that in Washington the family circle is seeing visions of a governor going up to the capitol of Ohio whose name is Nicholas Longworth, and the return of the president's daughter to the statehouse grounds in Columbus, where once she narrowly escaped being torn to pieces, to become the "first lady" of Ohio.

These are pleasant dreams. Whether the revealing of such visions had any disturbing effect upon the slumbers of our present governor, he alone knows and has not made it known, but the prompt announcement that the governor would prefer a candidate whose initials are Andrew L. Harris, comes very near being what any man from Missouri would call a concatenation of circumstances.—Columbus Press Post.

Floater Bothering Europe.

(New York World.)
In Italy, where but recently measures to discourage the emigration which was under discussion, the present concern is what to do with the 200,000 Italians thrown back on the kingdom through the industrial depression here. So quickly have economic conditions been reversed through the immediate reflection in southern Europe of the monetary stringency in the United States. The "drain" has been checked with suddenness which threatens seriously to disturb the kingdom.

In Germany also apprehension has been created by the influx of returning emigrants at a time when labor conditions are acute. Austria is confronted with a similar problem. In a favorable labor market these repatriated emigrants should prove a valuable national asset. They have served an apprenticeship in American workshops and they should be broad-minded citizens as a result of their contact with new ideas.

Unfortunately Italy is not building railroad tunnels or $40,000,000 terminals. It has no $1,000,000,000 steel industry. Of its 25,000,000 population nearly 10,000,000 are engaged in agriculture and 8,000,000 are classed as dependents. Few opportunities of employment will present themselves to the homecoming army. In Germany commodities are at famine prices. There are reported to be 3,000 unskilled workmen idle in Berlin alone.

The upsetting of the labor balance abroad by the shifting of a few hundred thousand of unemployed workmen from this country to Europe is interesting as an industrial phenomenon. Their departure to that extent relieves the situation here. So far from benefiting themselves, they appear to have abandoned the substance of eventual employment here for the shadow there.

CARROLLTON.

Carrollton, O., Jan. 26.—The election of directors for the Carroll County Agricultural society brought many people to Carrollton yesterday from all parts of the county.

The advance man of the "Royal Slave" company was in Carrollton, Saturday.

Dr. John B. Moody, Carroll county's oldest citizen, is seriously ill in his home in Lee township. The doctor was 97 years old last July. The doctor has always been a healthy man, and is still in active practice, but at his advanced age could not stand a very severe illness. He is one of the largest land owners in the county and at the present time has about 1400 acres. Mr. Moody is known over the state as "the dean of Ohio doctors."

The remains of Mrs. A. T. Aller, who died at her home in Elsworth, Kas., January 17, were brought to Carrollton on Tuesday night, and were interred in Grandview cemetery on Thursday, from the home of her brother, Joseph C. Butler, the old Butler homestead. The services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Keger, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Aller was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Washington Butler, and is the first of a family of seven children to die. She was married in 1878 to Rev. A. T. Aller in Carrollton. Rev. and Mrs. Aller moved west in 1880, and have been residents of Kansas or Missouri ever since. She had been in ill health for some time, but her last sickness was of less than a week's duration, her death being caused by peritonitis.

Miss Frances Edwards, of East Palestine, was a guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ferrish, over Sunday.

The Nameless Sewing club was entertained on Monday evening by Miss Laura Essig.

F. P. Cooney, who has been working for the Free Press-Standard since October, has gone to Cleveland.

The Ohio male quartet gave their entertainment to a large audience in the opera house Friday night. This is an excellent organization and gave one of the best entertainments of the kind ever heard in Carrollton.

The marshal from Loudonville came here on Wednesday and arrested John Reigle, of Harrison township, on a charge preferred by a Miss Green, of that place. He was taken to Loudonville that evening. He is a son of Thomas Reigle, and is about 18 years of age.

Wilbur Aller, of Canton, had his leg broken in two places, and his ankle badly mashed one day this week, while working at a saw mill, east of town. Mr. Aller was caught between rolling logs. The injury was attended to by Dr. J. J. Hataway, and Mr. Aller was taken to the home of his father-in-law, Erasmus McCausland, east of town.

The management of the opera house has secured Clarence Bennett's beautiful Mexican play, "A Royal Slave," for Friday evening, January 31.

F. S. Shearer, of Louisville, has succeeded F. P. Cooney as bookkeeper and reporter for the Free-Press-Standard.

The contract for printing the ballots for the primary election to be held February 11 will be let by the election board at their meeting next Saturday.

Useful Retirement.

People are quite right in these days of struggle to leave off money-making when they have got enough and give the younger generation a chance. In every town and parish, however, there is much work, needing to be done by some one, that could be undertaken by people who have retired from professions or business.—Sunday at Home.

STOP DRINKING!

Urine Destroys Desire for Drink
"How to Swear Off."

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—break it.

But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. When a man takes a pledge voluntarily he expects to keep it. Every man expects to keep his word, and every broken pledge costs the drunkard many a headache. But he cannot help it. He fights as long as he can, then succumbs to the craving. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased and he must have treatment that will cure this condition. This Urine will do and is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. No other treatment for the liquor habit is sold with such a liberal guarantee.

Urine is prepared in two forms; No. 1 a powder, perfectly tasteless and colorless, which can be given secretly in any food or drink. Urine No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to be cured of the habit, and it should be taken by every one who swears off.

No matter which form of Urine is used the guarantee is the same. The price of Urine is $1.00 per box, mailed in plain sealed wrapper, upon receipt of price. Write for free booklet on "How to Cure Drunkenness" (mailed in plain, sealed envelope), by The Urine Co., Washington, D. C.

Urine is sold by Roth & Hug, 333 East Tuscarawas street.

MRS. EDDY

train, and among the science leaders and it was surmised that although those in charge of affairs appeared not to believe in the wisdom of admitting him to the train, he had some card or message either from Calvin A. Frye or from Mr. Eddy, which gave him admission and it was Mrs. Eddy's will that ruled in the matter. Dr. Morrill is a second or third cousin of Mrs. Eddy, his father, Dr. Ezekiel Morrill, having had quite an intimate personal acquaintance with Mrs. Eddy, during her residence here.

Mrs. Eddy's departure was not known in advance by any of her faithful flock in this city and those who have been seen with reference to the matter are as much astounded as is the general public here, where it was supposed that Mrs. Eddy would surely end her days. Whether she will ever return to her beautiful home at Pleasant View, is not known; but it has been definitely learned that she left Concord today for a mansion in Newton, Mass., about four miles out of Boston, where for months and months a structure has been under way which as to its probable occupancy has been a deep mystery. All the workmen on the mansion have been as mum as oysters and all attempts to positively establish the fact that it was to be Mrs. Eddy's home, have been foiled, although suspicion has pointed that way as an result of newspaper investigation. It is said the mansion is also to be the seat of the new institution which Mrs. Eddy announced some weeks ago she was to establish for the education of such of the poor as desired to gain a knowledge of Christian Science and for which she stated that she proposed to set apart $1,000,000. Every since the announcement of this proposed move on the part of Mrs. Eddy, her son, George W. Glover, of South Dakota, and other heirs, through counsel, have been endeavoring to locate any tangible move looking to the carrying out of the plan with a view to bringing in-junction proceedings restraining the aged woman from thus disposing of a portion of her fortune.

Some are inclined to think that Mrs. Eddy has taken this sudden and mysterious departure in order to escape further trouble from the state courts, preferring to meet her opponents, if she has to meet them at all, in a United States court, which would now be the case. Others offer the theory that Mrs. Eddy will make her winter quarters in Newton and it court matters are finally adjusted with her heirs in a manner that is satisfactory all around and she is thereby removed from the likelihood of any further legal troubles in New Hampshire, she may come back to Pleasant View summers or permanently.

General Frank S. Streeter, of this city, Mrs. Eddy's personal counsel, could not be induced to offer any comment on the significant move of Mrs. Eddy. Ex-Senator William E. Chandler, chief counsel for the heirs of Mrs. Eddy, is in Washington. The railroad details connected with the departure of Mrs. Eddy were placed in the hands of W. R. Babcock, local ticket agent at the south terminal station, Boston, and a Christian Scientist. He came to the city last evening in a private car and worked out all the details. The rolling stock required, comprised three engines, a combination car, private car and day coach. One engine acting as pilot, took its station in the outskirts of the railroad yard, a second drew the train and the third was stationed in the rear. The idea of having a pilot and rear guard engine is supposed to have been the suggestion of Mrs. Eddy, desiring to make the journey not only free from the possibility of accident, but from an attempt to do harm to her or her train from a malicious motive.

UTILITIES

of the commissioners for malfeasance or misfeasance in office, the party so charged to be furnished with a copy of the charges and given an open hearing, with power to subpoena witnesses in his defense.

"The bill defines what shall be embraced by the term municipal council as the governing body of a city, village or political unit. The public utilities coming under the operation of the bill embrace every corporation, company, individual, association of individuals, their lessees, trustees or receivers, and every town or city that now or may hereafter own, operate, manage or control any plant or equipment, or any part of a plant or equipment within the state for the conveyance of telephone or telegraphic messages, or for the production, transmission, delivery or furnishing of heat, light, water or power, either directly or indirectly, to or for the public; also all street and interurban railways.

"Instead of franchises being granted for a definite length of time the bill provides that only indeterminate permits shall be given, which shall run for such length of time as the corporation conforms to the rules, regulations and orders of the commission and conforms with the provisions and enactment of the city or village councils which the bill permits such bodies to make.

"CHARGES MUST BE JUST.
"The bill provides that every public utility shall furnish reasonably adequate service and facilities, and that their charges shall be just and reasonable, and all unjust and unreasonable charges are prohibited and declared unlawful.

"Every public utility having conduits, subways, poles, tracks or other equipment on, over or under any street or highway shall, for a reasonable compensation, permit the reasonable use of the same by any other public utility. If the two utilities cannot agree upon the terms, the commission has power to prescribe them. The decision of the commission may be reviewed by the courts.

"The commission has full power and authority to investigate and ascertain the value of all the property of every public utility actually used and useful for the convenience of the public and is given all the authority possible to aid it in obtaining this information, the purpose of this being that the public will not be compelled to pay any return on overvalued property. The commission has the power to compel all public utilities to keep uniform accounts, which shall be open to their inspection. The accounts and books of every public utility must be kept in an office in some village or city in this state in which the company has property.

"Every public utility must carry a proper and adequate depreciation account whenever the commission requires it, and the commission has the right to ascertain and determine what are the proper rates of depreciation and the rates must be such as will provide the amounts required over and above the expense of the maintenance of the property in a state of efficiency in correspondence to the progress of the industry.

"In order to induce corporations now enjoying franchises from municipal councils to come under the provisions of this act the council of municipalities in which such corporations are operating may grant franchises to other corporations, the purpose being to give these monopolies only to corporations which come under the provisions of this act, surrender their long term franchise and take the indeterminate permit. While indeterminate permit is indefinite and to an extent perpetual, yet it is provided that it shall only be so long as the corporation conforms with the requirements of the ordinances of the municipalities and to the rules and regulations of the commission. All licenses, permits and franchises hereafter granted shall have the effect of indeterminate permits and no longer shall franchises for any length of time be granted.

"MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.
"Provision is made for municipal ownership of all public utilities, but before they can be acquired or considered the question shall be submitted to a vote of the people. And if a majority of those voting on the question favor it, and that majority is equal to 60 per cent of the vote cast at the last regular election, then the
